Speedwatch

The Speedwatch continue to monitor speeds. But still there is no representation from Peters Village!

Due to the amount of speeding around the Parish, the Police mobile units are regularly around. SO, WATCH YOUR SPEED! If you would like to join this group please register on:

<https://communityspeedwatch.org/FRONT-v2-Register.php>

Roads/Footpaths/Grounds Maintenance

As a reminder, potholes etc can be reported directly to KCC through their website: <https://www.kent.gov.uk/roads-and-travel/what-we-lookafter/roads/potholes>

Water leaks can also be reported to: www.southeastwater.co.uk

Defibrillators

The Parish Council have paid for 3 defibrillators in the village. They are located at both ends of the village: THE VILLAGE HALL, 15 High Street and THE COMMUNITY CENTRE, Tolhurst Close, Peters Village. We are also hoping to have an additional one installed at the Watermans Arms soon. If needed, call 999. The emergency service will give you the address and access code to access the equipment as well as instruct you in its use. The Landlord at the WATERMANS ARMS is currently finalising the installation of another one on their premises.

Lifebuoys

As we all live near a very fast-moving river, the Parish Council have paid for Lifebuoys along the river in Peters Village. It is vital that these are always fit for purpose. They are checked monthly by Councillors and should only be opened in case of emergency.

Public Open Spaces

DOG POO! Parks, footpaths, other people's gardens - we really need ALL DOG OWNERS to do their bit. Please be extra vigilant when you take your dogs out at night, it might be you that step in it!

Wouldham has the highest number of dog poo bins per capita than anywhere else in the borough and 'poo bag' bottles are located at many points across the whole parish, regularly filled up by volunteers, so PLEASE USE THEM!

New Craft & Chatter Group

Our Youth & Community Worker, Ann-Marie, has started a friendly, informal group running alternate Monday mornings in the Village Hall. Alongside your own working on your own creations, you can also help with a 'Community Wall Hanging' which is currently being produced. Anyone interested or able to help, please contact:

December & January in Your Garden

‘May we all emerge from Winter with our strength renewed,

The days may be short, and distinctly colder, but there are still enough opportunities to be able to continue to enjoy your garden throughout winter. Once the rain and frosts arrive there are fewer tasks to do in the garden as there is less routine maintenance required, but the finer dry days still allow an opportunity to review what’s looking good, and to plan for the coming year.

By now any tender plants should have been stored away for winter, and those that might get damaged by high winds or snow should also be moved to a more protected spot if possible. If we do get any snow, which might be more likely in the new year, make sure to knock any lying snow off hedges or branches where possible as the weight can often cause them to break. If the weather is still mild and there haven’t been any prolonged spells of frost, then it is still possibly to mulch the ground with manure, compost or bark etc. This will help to protect your soil over winter from erosion (it’s a bit like throwing a blanket over), and the worms and micro-organisms will work them into the soil to help nourish your plants come springtime.

One of the key opportunities at this time of year is to harvest evergreen shrubbery to bring into the house either in a vase, or use to create festive displays. There will be some lovely seed heads around, either in your garden or along wild hedgerows (although only pick a few as these provide valuable resources for local birds and bugs), together with holly, ivy and yew which are all festive favourites. You can add to these using winter Jasmine, brightly coloured stems of Cornus, Willow, Hawthorn & Euonymus all of which can add an extra dimension to your display. Every year I suggest also spreading your festive decorations out into the garden, bare branches lend themselves so well to a few baubles and fairy lights, & in the dark evenings it brings that extra sparkle to the view. So if you're out on a winter walk, think about the opportunities to create a display from stems and seed heads – they can be equally as beautiful at this time of year.

Winter is the ideal time to clean up your tools & sharpen those that might need it as they are less in use now. Any metal parts can be cleaned over with wire wool dipped in linseed oil, which will help clean them, but will also lubricate any joints, and wooden tools will also benefit from the oil to rejuvenate and protect them for next season. Make sure all tools are stored away safely over winter so they are clean and fresh ready for spring. Washing out any spare pots and trays is also good practice, so that they are clean and ready for use in the new year.

Collect up any last leaves now & bag up to make 'leaf mould', simply punch a few holes in a black sack, pack the leaves in, tie the sack, & leave for a year. Leaf mould is an excellent soil conditioner, and can also be used for potting up cuttings etc. in Spring, & you can make it for just the cost of a few black sacks. Leave the bag behind a shed or out of sight for a year for it to be fully rotted down & ready to use.

In the vegetable garden, root veg can still be harvested, and if prolonged cold weather is forecast then lift what you need and heel them into a lightly dug trench instead as this will make them easier to retrieve when required. Winter is the ideal opportunity to prepare beds ready for the new season, but it can be difficult in wet and cold conditions as this can cause more harm than good by either compacting the soil, or exacerbating erosion. The no-dig technique helps with these factors as it actively discourages digging, instead favouring the worms and micro-organisms to do all the hard work instead. By adding a deep layer of manure or compost on top of the soil & leaving it to be worked in, it encourages a stronger and healthier soil as a result. It's not for everyone, & if you prefer to dig, then the addition of manure or compost into your dug beds will also be beneficial for next season. Rotation of your crops is also key to the success of your produce as it helps to minimise opportunities for some pests & diseases that affect particular crops. There are guides available to help plan what crops will benefit from previous crops, and this can then inform next years' growing plan.

Other things to be doing in the garden now:

- * Continue to keep bird feeders and baths topped up, and defrost infreezing temperatures – winter is a hard time for our native birds so they will welcome any additional offerings.
- * Keep an eye on indoor plants, now the heating is on and natural light is less, their watering requirements will alter.
- * Take advantage of a bit of down time & peruse some seed catalogues – ordering now will mean you're well ahead for spring sowing.
- * Finish pruning Roses if you haven't done so already – cut back on an angle to an outward facing bud, reducing the overall height by approx. two-thirds.

Wishing everyone a very Merry Christmas, & a Happy Healthy New Year.

Sue Durrani

RAMBLERS Guided group walks – 2024

For details of all our mid-week and Sunday walks, and walk leader contacts, see www.tonbridgeandmallingeramblers.org.uk.

Our friendly group is one of 13 Ramblers groups in Kent and part of the national Ramblers walking organisation.

We explore the beautiful countryside of Tonbridge and Malling and surrounding areas.

You don't have to be a Ramblers member to try a couple of walks with us, to help you decide if you'd like to join. If you're new to our walks, it's a good idea to contact the walk leader beforehand to check that their walk will suit you.
